problems concerning matters such as Contemporary Indian Philosophy:

Contemporary Indian Philosophy has arisen in awareness of the need to reconcile the forces of tradition with those of modernity. It is not merely repetitive. There is in it a definite attempt to construct a system. It develops under the conviction that the basic aim of Philosophy is to cultivate a world view. This requires an awareness of the existential condition of life as also the consciousness of life's ultimate ideal viz redemption not only of the individual. This work is a good survey of the thinkers presented. The author has given a good account of each and a brief bibliography for each at the end of the book. The volume could serve as a good introductory text for a course on modern Indian thought and is recommended.
